

To the tune of “Flower of Scotland”

We came over water,
We came over land, when we saw Cairngorm Mountains,
We can't see the end,
The fear was growing when darkness came in,
We stuck in the Highlands and getting goose skin.

Refrain:

there was a brave Scotsman who saved our lives
without using guns and without using knives he gave us much power by singing his songs and showed us the things a Scotsman belongs

Refrain:

He led us through darkness,
He led us through mist,
And showed us that dragons and trolls do exist,
He showed us the palace where fairies once lived,
When the heaven got open and it started to piss!

Refrain:

We fought against Nessie with the Scotsman in mind,
We conquered Fort George 'cause there has been no “Fiend”
We faced the north see the fear left behind,
'cause the thought us to be of Scot kind.

Refrain:

But to be a Scotsman one thing left behind,
You have to drink whisky, instead of French wine,
The magical Spring gave us the power of singing the real anthem on drummin' tower.

Refrain:

Scotsman's fairy served us supper with a spoon
every morning and afternoon.
She showed us how to dance on the last night and the smiles on faces was very bright.

And now we're leaving proud Richard's army
he send us homewards and say goodbye.
